- c. Shooting Dog Stakes: For dogs of any age.
- d. An Open Stake is one in which there are no limitations with respect to either dogs or handlers. Open placements and Championships are recognized solely by the American Field and are run under the auspices of the NBHA Open Championship committee. The NBHA Open Championship committee establishes the guidelines for sanctioning all open events, certifies the winners of these events and assumes any and all rights and responsibilities associated with these events.
- e. An Amateur Stake is one in which all handlers are Amateurs as defined by the By-Laws of the Amateur Field Trial Clubs of America. (The AFTCA Definition of Professional and Amateur reads: Any person who receives or has received, either directly or indirectly, compensation for training or handling dogs (including handling of dogs on a plantation or shooting preserve) other than his own or those of an immediate family member is not an amateur. Any amateur who handles a dog not solely owned and registered in his or in the name of a member of his immediate family, who is awarded a placement for such dog's performance shall waive payment or any division of the cash purse or shall lose his amateur status. The funds waived shall remain the property of the club. No amateur shall handle more than (2) dogs not solely owned by him or some member of his immediate family in any amateur stake. All amateur stakes are run under AFTCA rules. Only solid barrel firearms or a plugged barrel firearm, with blank shells or crimps, which prevents a projectile (of any kind) leaving the barrel may be used in an Amateur Stake by all AFTCA/NBHA member clubs. This would also be listed in all Amateur Stake advertisements in the American Field.
- f. Restricted Breed Stake – A stake that is limited to and advertised as exclusive to a breed.
- g. Winners in Walking Stakes shall be recorded and win certificates issued, but winners of children's, ladies, brace and other stakes not conforming to the definitions contained under this section will not be recognized.

Section 4. The min. length of heats for all stakes other than Puppy Stakes shall be thirty minutes, on the basis of the time that an average brace takes to negotiate the course. In the case of one-course trials, no more than eight minutes of the thirty shall be spent in the Bird Field. Min. length of heats for Puppy Stakes shall be fifteen minutes.

Section 5. A stake must be drawn by lot and numbered in the order drawn, in a convenient and approved place open to the public not later than the night before the day the stake is due to be run.

Section 6. Dogs shall not be substituted after the draw.

Section 7. All braces shall be run as drawn except with the prior consent of the judges and handlers, which consent must not be given for the purpose of accommodating owners, handlers, or dogs that are not available when reached in the regular order of the draw.

- a. Should there be a bye in the stake, the handler may, at his discretion, run alone or with a dog selected by them for the purpose. Provided, however, that if a dog from any regularly drawn full brace should be withdrawn, fail to appear or be disqualified, the bye dog shall be moved up to fill the vacancy caused by the absent dog. In the event there is no bye, then such dog losing its brace mate, as previously contemplated, must be run in its regular order of drawing, either alone or with a dog as a running mate that is satisfactory to the judges. In the event that there be two withdrawals from different braces, the brace mates of such withdrawn dogs may be run together where the first vacancy occurs, or in their regular order, at the discretion of the judges. This same rule applies if there be four or any even number of dogs withdrawn from the stake.
- b. All stakes should be so arranged that if at all possible, no more than one bye dog is drawn or run. Except where there are an uneven number of starters in a stake, no bye should ordinarily occur. For example, in the event the drawing by lot has two dogs handled by the same person remaining as the last stake, the bracing is rearranged with the last previous available dog drawn not so handled, changing places with the first drawn of the final two dogs.

Section 8. No entry shall be accepted after the stake is drawn.

Section 9. No more than one brace of dogs shall run on a course or any part of a course at the same time irrespective of whether the dogs are in the same stake or in different stakes.

Section 10. Stakes shall be run only on recognized game birds whose flight has not been impaired by caging, hobbling, wing clipping, brailing, or in any, other manner.

Section 11. Bitches in season shall not be permitted to run in one-course trials.

Section 12. Wins will not be recorded if the dog is not registered at the time the stake is run. The listing of all data on dogs and owners of those same dogs be listed with the NBHA for the purpose of establishing a data base. .

Section 13. Wins will not be recorded if the essential data is not complete.

Section 14. Wins will not be recorded, or if recorded, will be cancelled if made in a trial or in a stake not conforming to the above requirements.

Section 15. It is recommended that courses contain sufficient bird cover and suitable objectives to induce intelligent searching by the dogs. Bird fields if used should be of adequate size to permit a dog to hunt without excessive hacking, and with cover sufficient to hold birds. A variety of cover and objectives is desirable. Five (5) acres is suggested as a minimum area for a bird field.

- b. PUPPY CLASSIC: The owner of a Futurity Puppy has the option of entering the Puppy Classic, which is held in conjunction with the Futurity. A puppy must be registered in THE FIELD DOG STUD BOOK. Entry in the Puppy Classic is NOT mandatory to keep the dog eligible for the Futurity.

Dogs must display an intense desire to find birds, a keen nose to detect the presence of game, and the ability to locate that game quickly and accurately by body scent. Dogs should show staunchness, intensity, positiveness, and style on point. Dogs are required only to be steady to flush. Backing and retrieving will not be mandatory as in National Bird Hunters Association's Shooting Dog Stakes. There will be qualifying heats of thirty (30) minutes and the judges will name those dogs; that they wish to see in the final one (1) hour heat. The type of dog to be honored is one which shows the potential to go on to win the important shooting dog events in the country, such as the National Bird Hunters Association's Regional Championships and the National Bird Hunters Association's National Shooting Dog Championships. A Futurity placement qualifies the dog for the next year's National Championship.

Section 2. PUPPY: Puppies are judged on the natural qualities they should possess: incentive to hunt, intelligence, good constitution, nervous energy, courage, good conformation, instinct to point, style and appearance. Heats are thirty (30) minutes with no birds liberated, and the puppy winners are not required to point, back or retrieve.

- g. Aside from being injured or handicapped, handlers do not have the option of walking or riding in any stake in NBHA.

Section 8. TRACKING COLLARS

The sole purpose of using a tracking collar in a field trial is to assist handler in finding a dog that may be lost or which is deemed no longer in judgment. The rules for the use of a tracking collar in all recognized stakes are as follows.

- a. AFTCA approved tracking collars may be used.
- b. If a handler elects to use the transmitting collar on his or her dog, only one other Collar is permitted to be on the dog.
- c. The hand-held locating receiver shall be kept in the possession of the judges and/or their designees.
- d. The hand-held locating receiver can only be used after the dog is determined to be out of judgment.
- e. The use of the tracking collar is elective and for no reason should the running of a stake be held up due to the lack of available equipment.
- f. Each club shall inform the judges of the rules and the use to ensure uniform practice.
- g. Any person using a locating receiver to locate a dog currently in judgment, and prior to official authorization of its use by one of the judges, shall disqualify the dog in that stake and the offenders shall be disqualified from field trials.
- h. Provided the dog starts a heat with tracking collar in place, removal of tracking collar disqualifies the dog.

Section 9. SCOUTING

- a. No scouting is permitted in a National Bird Hunters Association Stake, except that a person, with the permission of a judge, may be designated to go and see if the dog is on point at a specific location. That person shall in no way handle the dog.
- b. Lagging behind the field trial party for the purpose of locating dogs shall constitute scouting to the same extent as leaving the field party to go in any other direction.

Section 10. CONDUCT OF HANDLERS

- a. All handlers must conform to any and all regulations and rules and directions of the judges which do not conflict with the rules and regulations for field trials of this corporation; and should any such regulation be disregarded the judges shall have authority to disqualify such handler and/or his dogs, or they may leave the matter to the Stake Manager for his action.
- b. The judges are expected to prescribe and rigidly enforce a strict rule upon the interference of handler or dog with the brace mate's dog.
- c. Handlers shall be at liberty to inquire of the judges at any time as to any regulations within their province or of the Stake Manager concerning any rule beyond the jurisdiction of the judges.

Section 11. COMPLAINTS

A handler may make verbal complaint to either the judges or the Stake Manager concerning the conduct of his opponents provided that such complaint be made promptly upon the alleged commission of the offense, thus affording proper official opportunity of observing the immediate situation.

Section 12. IMPUGNING JUDGES

Any person who has, to the satisfaction of the Stake Manager, impugned the action of a judge officiating at any stake, or who has otherwise annoyed such official in connection with or because of his official action in connection with the trial either during or after the running of a trial, may be barred from further participation in or attendance at such trial by the Stake Manager and such disbarment may be made permanent by subsequent action of the Board of Directors.

Section 13. CONDUCT UNBECOMING A GENTLEMAN

If a complaint is made by an active club of this corporation or by an individual associated with such active club, that a person entering a dog in, or attending any field trial held by an active club of this corporation itself, has acted in a manner contrary to good sportsmanship and detrimental to the best interest of the field trial generally, such complaint shall be in writing and a hearing held in the same manner as is provided in by-laws, Article III, Section 1, (a), (b), and (c). If a majority of the Board of Directors shall find and decide that the complaint is well founded and that the accused has acted in a manner contrary to good sportsmanship and detrimental to the best interest of field trials generally, the person so accused shall be barred from attending and being in any event sponsored by this corporation or by any active club of this corporation, and no certificate of win made by a dog entered or handled by such person shall be issued by this corporation. The Secretary shall notify both the accused and accusing party in writing of this decision of the Board of Directors.

Section 14. FIELD MARSHAL

One or more Field Marshals shall be appointed by the Stake Manager, and the Field Marshal or Field Marshals shall have the full authority to control the movement of the gallery or other spectators. The Field Marshals shall prevent interference with the judges, handlers and dogs.

Section 15. BACKING STANDARDS

- a. In a Shooting Dog Stake, it is mandatory that a judge order a dog up, if the dog, in the opinion of the judge, demonstrates conclusively that it refuses to back its brace mate.
- b. A handler may request permission from the judge to move a backing dog so as not to use up his allotted time, if in the judge's opinion; the pointed dog's handler is taking too much time to flush.
- c. Derby and puppy winners are not required to back.

Section 16. RETRIEVING STANDARDS

- a. It isn't mandatory for shooting dog, derby, or puppy winners to retrieve.

Section 17. SHOOTING DOG STANDARDS

A Shooting Dog should possess an intense desire to find birds and adjust to the terrain for its handler; display a keen nose to detect the presence of game, and to locate it accurately and promptly; staunchness on point, without false pointing or blinking; bird wisdom, intelligent ground work and the pace and range most effective for the work at hand; stamina; speed, industry and independence at work and intensity in searching; quickness in locating his handler and in seeing and hearing his commands, kindly handling and good manners, and backing his brace mates point; and willingness to face unflinchingly heavy cover, brier, or other handicaps; style of carriage and grace of movement, styling up well on point with head aloft and tail level or above. Open Shooting Dogs must be steady to wing and shot.

Section 18. DERBY STANDARDS

Derbies are judged on their demonstration of potentially becoming a Finished Shooting Dog showing some bird sense, speed and stamina, hunt to the course, locate and point quickly and accurately and be staunch. Derby winners are not required to back.

Section 19. PUPPY STANDARDS

Puppies are judged on natural qualities they should possess: instinct to hunt & point, intelligence, good constitution, nervous energy, courage, good conformation, style and appearance. Puppy winners are not required to point or back.

Section 20. COURSE GAME AND GUN LAWS AND RULES

- a. All events must be held on one course under natural conditions; Exception for special cases would be with approval of the Executive Committee, for a club to have a multiple course trial, and is advertised as such.
- b. It is recommended that supplemental birds be liberated on the course, but must be liberated in widely separated area of the course to stimulate natural condition, and replaced on a put and take basis.
- c. All participants will adhere to all state gun laws, rules, and safety, according to the state in which they are participating.
- d. If the participant does fire in the direction of the judge, participant, or too close to the gallery, he will be asked to pick up his or her dog. Firing at a judge, participant, or gallery will be grounds for disqualifying the participant and his or her dog in that particular brace or stake.
- e. No dog shall be placed in a NBHA Championship Stake until shot over when birds are flushed to his point or as directed by a judge. The shot shall be fired by the handler of the pointing dog only, with a gun of not less than .32 caliber (shotgun 209 primers may be used in lieu of 32 blanks).
- f. The use of live ammunition is banned in all NBHA stakes held by members of the corporation.

Section 21. BIRDFIELDS (If Used)

- a. All dogs must remain in the bird field for eight (8) minutes, so long as the allocated time for the brace has not expired, at which time all dogs will be picked up. This does not mean a dog cannot cross the boundaries, but must show that he will handle in a given area.

Section 22. INJURED OR HANDICAP HANDLER.

- a. To handle a dog at a trial from a horse or four wheeler (where permitted) the handler must notify the trial chairman prior to the drawing and provide a State placard and/or certificate from the State identifying the handicap status. A Doctor's excuse is not acceptable. An individual must submit a request for handicap status to the NBHA Secretary for approval prior to competition. A handicapped handler may handle up to 2 dogs per stake and must be the owner of those dogs. There are no restrictions for the length of stake.
- b. A handicapped handler, riding, should respect his or her brace-mate at all times. The goal of the handicapped rule in the NBHA is to allow a handler to participate in a field trial who might otherwise be unable to compete because of physical impairment.
- c. A handicapped handler uses the horse only as a vehicle of transportation, and in no way should utilize the horse to guide the dog to a specific location or to give a physical advantage over his brace-mate. At no time can the rider do anything that he or she could not do if they were walking, but the riding handler also should not be penalized. As the walking handler can, the riding handler may be allowed to catch up if he falls behind, as long as he does not run or lope his horse in so doing. This will help the problem of both judges seeing both dogs for the major portion of the heat.
- d. The average participant in a walking field trial proceeds at a pace of 3.5 to 4.0 miles per hour. The marshals shall evaluate the pace with the aid of a GPS, if necessary, and if the marshal has to warn a participant about the pace more than once, the matter will be referred to the stake manager or field trial chairman, and the participant may be asked to withdraw.

ARTICLE III – JUDGING

Section 1. JUDGING GUIDELINES

- a. All judges will use the spotting system. Dogs who do not make game and show no sign of smelling game birds, such as flushing birds in a downwind situation, will not be credited with a flush if in the judge's opinion this holds true, however, the dog is not to be penalized for giving chase under these conditions any more than had he stopped to flush unless he deliberately chases. If a dog should give indication of game scent, and then flushes the birds, whether he stops or chases, this will be credited as a flush.
- b. Consideration should be given to the quality of finds rather than the number of birds coupled with a good race, hunting proper objectives, and handling, should be placed over lesser overall performances with a greater number of finds.
- c. The back course should be judged so as to prove a dog's natural covey finding ability by adjusting to all types of terrain and hunting the bird's objectives. Dogs, who hunt wide and do not work the objectives, should not be placed over medium dog that hunts all the objectives. However, should the other dog hunt all the same objective in a quicker manner, we must assume that at the end of the day, this dog will find more birds and it should handle to foot and respond to his handler.

Section 2. FIELD TRIAL JUDGES

The judging of field trials is an inexact science. The men who perform this frequent arduous and often thankless task are not endowed with any special powers bordering on the supernatural. They are ordinary human beings honestly endeavoring to bestow field trial honors where they justly belong. They are, of course, capable of making errors, and sometimes do, for they have no particular gift of infallibility. This is not to say that any conscientious sportsman would make a good field judge, for there are certain attributes, which every capable arbitrator should possess.

He should first, be honest, fearless and absolutely impartial; wholly without prejudice for or against any particular breed, dog style or type of performance or individual. Secondly, he should have the mental ability to quickly analyze a situation and properly interpret it. Third, he should be calm and dispassionate in temperament, not easily ruffled and not willing to risk snap judgment. Fourth, he should be physically able to withstand long hours in the saddle without impairment to physical or mental alertness.

These are not mysteriously magical qualities. Most sportsmen possess some or all of them in some degree. But to find a man who possesses all in high degree is not as easy as it may seem. Things sometimes happen fast in field trials and the ability to quickly analyze and properly interpret a rapid-fire action is generally born of considerable experience. It is not necessary for a man to have years of experience in the judicial saddle before he becomes a capable judge: on the other hand his knowledge of true bird dog performance values can be obtained through caring for, hunting behind, handling, and better training his own bird dogs. When he has done this he is better equipped to recognize and more fully appreciate quality in bird dog performance. Such experience makes it less difficult for him to understand the mental processes and reactions of a bird dog and makes obvious to him those time nuances in performance which are so often important but so frequently overlooked by the less experienced. No person should accept an invitation to act as a judge unless he is willing and able, regardless of the time required, and in fact, determined to run each stake to its logical conclusion. Although he receives no remuneration for his work, he should recognize the fact that each contesting dog is exceedingly important to its owner or handler and merits his full attention regardless of the quality of its performance. No judging assignment, no matter how relatively unimportant it might be, should be taken lightly.

Field trial judges, though their task be a thankless one, should not become incensed at honest and sincere criticism, provided it does not impugn their integrity. Seldom is it that any one person can see everything that happens at a field trial and seldom is it that two people see or interpret a single situation exactly alike. Field trial judges have a better opportunity to see more of what transpires than any member of the gallery. Before any spectator, owner of handler criticizes any decision he should first ask himself for an honest answer to the following question: "Did I see all of the running of all the dogs? Did I see everything that transpired? How would I have evaluated certain work which was apparently penalized and other work which was apparently highly valued?" Such self-interrogation may put the decision in a different light.

Field trial judges do not like to be treated as "untouchable". Club officials should, however, make every effort to ease their task through the provision of every possible comfort and convenience. Every spectator and contestant alike should accord them full respect and courtesy which the dignity of their position and their unselfish devotion to the sport commands. New and younger judging talent is sorely needed in field trials. Field trial committees should give serious consideration to the inviting of young and enthusiastic field trial devotees to act as judges, giving them the benefit of serving with older men of seasoned experience. Without field trial judges, there can be no field trials.
